

March 2002 Volume 39 Number 1

President's Message

Renewal: Reinventing the Roots of Tradition

Thomas Faye

Did you renew?

NLA memberships run
January to December –
don't forget to renew yours! (See page 15 for more information)

Spend a night in the Ely Jailhouse Go to page 2 to see how...

Where does the money go?
Find out on page 9

As the gavel of NLA is passed in 2002, I find myself looking back on 2001. Susan Graf and her team had a magnificent year culminating in an informative and fun conference in Las Vegas. I would like to thank Susan and all of her officers for their hard work in 2001. Anytime that you think being president of an association is easy, just walk up to a past president and ask them what they think.

Susan left office posing an interesting question. What is a librarian? Since I am not a librarian yet, I decided to ponder this. I have had a wonderful opportunity to work in or with almost every library in this State over the last 18 years. I worked in rural libraries as well as the large urban libraries. I found that no matter the location, each community defines what and who its librarian(s) may be. Sometimes it is financial and sometimes it is educational criteria that determine a librarian. However, no matter the method, I discovered that the person who serves as a librarian is generally one who has an unquenchable thirst for knowledge and is willing to share their knowledge and information acquiring skill to any who walk through the door.

With this in mind, I asked numerous colleagues to serve as officers this year and in serving, share their wealth of information, experience, and skills. I also asked many of them to chair

new committees,
thus my theme for
the year, Renewal:
Reinventing the Roots of Tradition.
I discussed with my fellow officers the need to evaluate new methods of providing our members services. I mentioned in the past, and will be reiterating throughout the year, new and more cost effective ways of providing these services.

We are an organization created in the middle of the 20th century. We are now in the 21st century and must look to utilize 21st century resources more effectively. A simple example is travel. While getting together for a meeting is beneficial, it does not necessarily need to be in person. The same meeting could be held via video conferencing at several points throughout the state. We are already investigating holding at least one such meeting this way in 2002. Many committees are using email more and the Association is increasing the amount and types of information available on the website. In the final analysis, we need to be more creative in serving our member's needs.

Continued on Page 3

ISSN 1094-6918

Quarterly publication of the

Nevada Library Association

(March, June, September, December)

Editor:

Jennifer Church

University of Nevada Las Vegas 4505 Maryland Parkway Box 457004 Las Vegas, NV 89154-7004

Ph 702-895-2183 Fax 702-895-2287

E-mail: jchurch@ccmail.nevada.edu

Subscriptions:

Holly Van Valkenburgh
Nevada State Library & Archives
100 North Stewart Street
Carson City, NV 89701-4285

Ph 775-684-3322 Fax 775-684-3311 E-mail: hvanvalk@clan.lib.nv.us

Deadlines:

March issue deadline Jan 15 June issue deadline April 15 September issue deadline July 15 December issue deadline Oct 15

Advertising rates:

Full page: $150 Half page: $100 Quarter page: $50

Subscription Rates: Included in Membership

Non-members: U.S., One year: $ 25 Outside U.S.: $ 30

2002 NLA Conference

October 3, 4 and 5 – Ely, Nevada (more info coming soon!)

Conference Hotels:

The Jailhouse Motel & Casino

(50 rooms blocked) (775) 289-3033 or 800-841-5430 (located at 5th & Aultman - across the parking lot from the convention center)

> The prices are: $53.00 single $63.00 double (continental breakfast)

The Holiday Inn

(775) 289-8900

(located on Aultman - opposite end of town from the convention center)

The prices are: $56.00 single or double

Upcoming Events

2002

Feb 8: Part 1 – College of DuPage Teleconference on Virtual Reference (Part 2 on April 19). See page 14 for contact info

Feb 20: NW District Business Meeting at 6:30 pm with Programs at 7:00 pm at TMCC

Mar 1 & 2: "Join the Winner's Circle", 2002 Summer Reading Program Kickoff, Tonopah. Contact Stephanie Miler, Chair

Mar 20: NW District Business Meeting at 6:30 pm with Programs at 7:00 pm at TMCC

Mar 29: Gregory Robinson's "Training The Trainer" program (9-11am) at Clark County Library in the Large Conference Room (sponsored by Southern District)

April 19: Part 2 – College of DuPage Teleconference on Virtual Reference (Part 1 was on Feb 8). See page 14 for contact info

April 22 & 23: Knowledge Management: Methods and Systems (OCLC Class) at UNLV. Contact Brad Eden at beden@ccmail.nevada.edu

May 20 & 22: Creating a New Reference Librarianship (OCLC Class) at UNLV Contact Brad Eden at beden@ccmail.nevada.edu

Summer: CI 481/607 Book Selection for Children, contact Reed Scull

Sept 9-13: Library Institute - "Marketing Your Library" Carson City

Oct 2-5: Nevada Library Association - Ely Laura Oki, Chair

Oct 2-5: Mountain Plains Library Association/ North Dakota Library Association/ South Dakota Library Association (joint Conference), Fargo, ND

2003

Nov. 4–8: Mountain Plains Library Association/ Nevada Library Association (joint conference), Lake Tahoe, NV

President's Message

Continued from Page 1

Many often ask what NLA can do for them or for their organization. In a nutshell, NLA serves as the glue that binds all libraries and all library employees, both MLS and non-MLS, together throughout the state, regardless of library type. NLA is not a political organization; rather, it is a volunteer organization. In this, one volunteers to share knowledge and resources to colleagues that ultimately will provide better service to our patrons, be they K-12, academic, special or public.

NLA does not pit one type of library against another. We come together in NLA to share our experiences and diversity, not to favor one method or ideology over another. We as individuals or organizations may have political differences. These are the realities of life and the realities of competing for funding in the 21st century. However, NLA is and must remain neutral ground for all types of libraries. This is one of the Roots of Tradition in which I believe strongly. For me there is no time better spent than that of sitting with colleagues from a variety of institutions and chatting about both failures and successes.

There is a huge wealth of library experience in Nevada. That experience comes from both our rural areas as well as our sprawling urban centers. With the diversity of the officers elected and appointed, I hope that we offer you, our members, a variety of programs, experiences, and information that will be beneficial to you and your organizations. Please make a difference to your community of colleagues by sharing your greatest gifts, your knowledge and experience. Become involved in NLA. You might be surprised at what you will learn about libraries.

Our annual conference will be held in Ely this year, October 3-5. Yes, I've heard the rumblings about rural conferences. Many don't want to travel by car... it takes too long... there is nothing to do. I have heard them all. I encourage you all to venture out this year and see what Nevada has to offer. The Elv area is famous for Basque food, steam engine train rides, hiking at Wheeler Peak, spelunking at Lehman Caves, fishing at Cave Lake, and for those in urban areas, clear mountain air. I look forward to this year as NLA president. I hope to see and hear from all of you.

ENTERTAINMENT PUBLIC PERFORMANCE MOVIE COPYRIGHT COMPLIANCE FOR PUBLIC LIBRARIES

© Warner Bros.

HARRY POTTER AND THE SORCERER'S STONE, one of the movies available for showing in Licensed Public Libraries when released to video. ST. LOUIS – Movie Licensing USA, Licensing Agent for Walt Disney, Warner Bros., Paramount, DreamWorks, Columbia, Sony, MGM and other major motion picture studios, now provides Movie Copyright Compliance Site Licensing to public libraries for the public performance of entertainment videos. The Movie License ensures copyright compliance for showing of films in the library facilities which were produced by the studios represented.

Neither the rental, purchase nor lending of a copyrighted videocassette or DVD automatically carries with it the right to show a movie outside the home except in certain limited teaching situations in schools. Public libraries do not enjoy any such exemptions from copyright law. Therefore, permission from each copyright owner has been required to ensure compliance with the law when showing copyrighted movies for special programs in a library. The movie license also protects a library when outside groups use the facilities to show copyrighted movies.

Carol Simpson, copyright authority, states, "If you have any doubt that your activities are within the law, first read the law itself. It is available free of charge from the Copyright Office of the Library of Congress as Circular 99. If in doubt, consult an attorney—preferably one who specializes in intellectual property (commonly listed as copyrights, trademarks, and patterns, or some combination of those terms)."

Free and detailed information regarding Movie Licensing and Movie Copyright Compliance Site Licenses for Public Libraries is available. Call toll-free at 1-888-267-2658 or write: Movie Licensing USA, 201 S. Jefferson Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri 63103-2579. A website is also available at http://www.movlic.com/

Reflections on the 2001 Nevada Library Leadership Institute

Jennifer Fabbi - Curriculum Materials/Education Librarian, UNLV

I'm driving down the Great Basin Highway on Monday, September 10...the sun is shining...my driving companion and I are debating some age-old library concept (or maybe gossiping a bit), and I am feeling relaxed and excited for the week to come. All of a sudden, a bird dives into the path of my car. Upon recovering from the impact (could this be an omen?), Joan and I look at each other with horror...keep driving...only ten miles to the Chevron and a good squeegee for the windshield.

Upon arrival at the beautiful and isolated JFDI "Executive Retreat" ("Just Focus and Do It" is the motto), we took our stuff to our rooms and began to mingle with other Institute participants. After a wonderful meal (giving us all an inkling of the weight-gain to come), we met for the first time as a group. We introduced ours elves to each other, not with titles and career path info, but with a disclosure of the first time that each of us felt that we had exhibited leadership.

I was immediately engaged with this idea, the participants, the consultants, and the diverse stories that I heard.

Okay, I know this all sounds ideal...and in retrospect, the experience of the 2001

Nevada Library Leadership Institute was ideal for me. In reality, it was also an amazing growing experience in action and attitude for myself, and I would venture to guess, every participant, in some way or another.

Because of the atmosphere, the wonderful consultants -Becky Schreiber and John Shannon, each participant, and the tragic national events that unfurled on the morning of Tuesday, September 11, it was an experience that I will never forget. In the next few reflections, I will try to emphasize not what we did, but what we learned. I cannot speak for the entire group, but I strive to be inclusive of the feelings and learnings that may have been experienced by all.

So what did we learn? First we looked at ourselves as people and potential leaders these exercises may have been a confirmation of what we have always known about ourselves for some, or an activity of soul-searching for others. Many of us, if not all, came out of this segment with the renewed knowledge that all people are unique and are to be respected. I walked away with specific behavior changes that will make me more effective not only as a leader, but as a human being as well.

"We were in all, 21 librarians in a time of national tragedy, with very little information...no television or radio reception, one Internet connection, and two pay phones"

We then looked to our state. What is happening with Nevada libraries? What are the big issues affecting us? The issue of marketing our resources amid changing demographics, needs, and demands arose as a unifying concept across all library types and geographic areas within the state of Nevada. We were able to focus key ideas into visions for our own libraries, as well as a vision statement for all libraries in Nevada.

The ability to find common ground and points for cooperation among many different types of libraries serving many different customer groups was eye opening and did not go unnoticed. Through informal interactions, evening sessions highlighting involvement in library organizations from the local to the international level, and a two-hour game of Bunko (if you don't know what it is, find out!), which included sixteen institute participants, there was plenty of opportunity to get to know our colleagues and to discuss directions for the future of Nevada's libraries. Most importantly, we each shared a plan of action with the whole group, which no matter how brief or elaborate, highlighted a commitment to pursue ideas and relationships formed during the week.

We were in all, 21 librarians in a time of national tragedy, with very little information...no television or radio reception, one Internet connection, and two pay phones. Thank you to those who bought newspapers each morning...we huddled around the sections on each break. Every time

Continued on Page 5

Leadership Institute

Continued from Page 4

we spoke with a loved one, we made reports to each other on news gleaned from them.

One participant thanked the group on the last day of the Institute, as half of its participants departed for McCarran International Airport for a flight back to Reno, saying "We have been able to make contact with our loved ones this week, but we have not been able to touch them." That comment has stuck with me since that day.

After determining that our loved ones were not in any immediate danger, we were able to decide that we would finish out the week. I believe that although it was difficult to focus at first, this group resolve made our week in Alamo even more powerful than it might have been otherwise.

Off-Campus Library Services Conference

The Tenth Off-Campus Library Services Conference sponsored by Central Michigan University will be held at the Omni Netherlands Plaza Hotel in Cincinnati, Ohio April 17-19, 2002.

Over 70 librarians and administrators will be presenting their research, experience, aspirations and good common sense approach to library services for distance education students. This conference is an opportunity to network with your peers, solve your most difficult problems and share your own unique experiences.

For more details please go to our Web site at ocls.cmich.edu/conference.htm or e-mail Connie Hildebrand at connie.hildebrand@cmich.edu phone 989-774-6080

In Memory of Gini Ann Hahn

Gini Ann Hahn of Reno, completed her life at St. Mary's Hospital on Nov. 30, 2001 after a brief illness. Gini was born June 3, 1933 in Brooklyn, N.Y. to Gene Kennedy and Helen Virginia Nolan Kennedy. She graduated from Shasta High School in Redding, Calif. and attended college of the Holy Names in Oakland, San Jose State college and earned a Master's degree in Counseling Psychology at Santa Clara University.

Gini taught elementary level Special Education and first through fourth grade for 22 years in California and from 1980, at Grace Warner, Lincoln Park and Lois Allen schools in Reno and Sparks. She was a natural and innovative teacher, loved her work and achieved notable success in early education reading programs.

Gini was a member of the Board of Directors of the Friends of the Washoe County Library and worked on book sorting and sales at many Friends' events. She was named the Outstanding Library Volunteer of the Year at the Nevada Library Association convention in Las Vegas in 2001. She also volunteered as a clown with the RSVP-UNR Clown Around, portraying Goldilocks at nursing homes, schools and libraries. She participated in the Traveling Tales outreach program of the Washoe County Library and St. Mary's Hospital and in reading programs at several schools.

Gini constantly gave of herself, personally and with charities and organizations. She loved children and deeply regretted her retirement, due to illness, from teaching. She made friends easily, has the instant ability to enter the "counseling mode" and helped innumerable people, especially children, deal with life's problems. She was truly a shining star and an inspiration for everyone she met. She collected children's books and was an innovative home decorator and she never appeared less than "coordinated" in her attire.

Susan Graf, Frankie Lukasko, Gini Hahn At the 2001 NLA Awards

[Excerpted from http://www.azla.org/]

The 2001 AzLA/MPLA Conference attendance was close to 1000 people from 12 states. The weather held perfect, sunny skies with daytime temperatures in the low 70's.

A full day of pre-conference programs was topped off with the Heard Museum Reception. Nearly 200 people enjoyed fabulous food, southwest Indian art and an opportunity for AzLA to meet, mingle and mix with out-of-state guests.

The multitude of programs was well received and gave everyone food for thought and offered much discussion during break times on Thursday and Friday. Links to handouts from many of the programs are available from the AzLA website.

Terry Goddard was on hand at the Arizona Young Readers' Awards luncheon to present an award in honor of his mother, Judy. Lunch with Bob Boze Bell on Friday was a great mid-day diversion. Mr. Bell proved to be the master of western humor with his stories of Arizona and the Southwest. The Thursday evening activities began with a relaxing no host bar reception followed by the Awards Banquet. Hats off to the individuals honored by their colleagues.

The following programs have links to handouts, presentation slides, web sites and/or other material.

http://www.azla.org/2001/index.html

2001 conference information will remain on this web site until December 2003.

- Arizona Partnership for the New Economy and Arizona Libraries
- Best New Books
- Connecting Through YA Reader's Advisory
- Cost Benefit Analysis for Libraries
- Creating a Place for Teens in Public Libraries
- Creating User-Friendly Web-Based Reference and Instruction Services
- Designing Libraries
- E-library Content Management
- E-library Services for the Spanish Speaking
- Electronic Competencies in a Digital World
- Electronic State Government in Arizona
- Four P's of LSTA Collaborative Grants
- Infusing Information Literacy Together for Children
- J and J's Best Picks
- Learning to be a Hands-On
 Computer Trainer
- Librarian and the Webmaster
- Nothing But Net
- Patents 101
- Planning Successful Opening Day
 Collections
- Powering Up Your YA Collection

- Rising to New Heights in Technical Services
- Satellite Science Project
- Softer Side of Murder
- Stress SOS
- Virtual Collaboration
- Who's Your Webmaster

MPLA Award Winners

Youth Services Award
Salina Public Library
Kansas

Intellectual Freedom Award Jim Heckel

Director of Great Falls Public Library, Montana

Literary Contribution Award Mark Spragg Wyoming

Legislative Leadership Award Barbara Staggs

Oklahoma State Legislator

News Media Support Arizona Republic Newspaper

Beginning Professional Brenda Mathenia

Montana State University, Bozeman

Continued on Page 9

* Bays at UNIV + 6 Semesters Online

ALA-Accredited Master's Degree!

University of Nevada - Las Vegas Libra

University of North Texas School of Library and Information Sciences

WEB INSTITUTE
MASTER'S DEGREE
PROGRAM

Top-Ranked ALA-Accredited

In proud collaboration with the University of Nevada-Las Vegas Libraries, the University of North Texas School of Library and Information Sciences will soon offer its Web Institute program. Through this outstanding program, you can earn your master's degree by participating in two four-day institutes at UNLV, one in September, 2002 and another in January, 2003 with the remainder of instruction via the Web. Find out more about UNT's ALA-Accredited Master's Degree! Visit us at our Web Site www.unt.edu/slis

QUALITY EDUCATION TO FIT YOUR LIFESTYLE

School of Library and Information Sciences http://www.unt.edu/slis 1.877.ASK.SLIS or 940.565.2445 vtaylor@lis.admin.unt.edu

The Southern District of NLA Joan Vaughan, SD Chair

ere we are, fresh at the beginning of another new year. The Southern District of NLA will continue to offer programs to enhance and educate library staff in Nye, Esmerelda, Lincoln, and Clark Counties. We hope to offer 5 programs of varying subjects throughout 2002 in addition to our NLA Conference Program in Ely this October. We are also planning a trip to the Utah Shakespeare Festival in September. All library staff and their families in the Southern District Counties are invited to attend. I would like to welcome the following people who are serving on the 2002 Southern District Planning Committee:

Joan Vaughan, Chair Gibson Library 564-9261, ext. 236 ievaughan@hdpl.org

Grace Mills, Membership Chair West Las Vegas Library 507-3980 millsg@lvccld.org

Tammy Gieseking West Charleston Library 507-3941

giesekingt@lvccld.org

Joanne Ross, Vice-Chair Spring Valley Library 507-3827 rossi@lvccld.org

Rita Botzenhardt Sue Morrow Elem. 799-3550

RitaBotzenhardt@interact.ccsd.net

Forrest Lewis North Las Vegas Library 633-1070 ofc. 1088

lewisf@ci.north-las-vegas.nv.us

Lynn Best, Sec./Treas. CCSN-Cheyenne Campus

651-4419

lvnn best@ccsn.nevada.edu

Jennifer Church UNLV Libraries 895-2183

jchurch@ccmail.nevada.edu

Sandy Williams Las Vegas Library

507-3500

williamss@lvccld.org

It's not too late! If you would like to participate on the SD Planning Committee, have ideas for programs that you would like to see offered, or have any other concerns or suggestions for us, don't hesitate to call or e-mail anyone listed above. We would love to hear from you.

> So, look for flyers, announcements on the NLA listsery, or check our website at http://www.nevadalibraries.org/Divisions/SD/index.html to see what the Southern District can do for you and your library!

Administrator Of State Library And Archives Approves Electronic Record Keeping Recommendations

Carson City - Sara Jones, administrator of the Nevada State Library and Archives, has approved the 15 recommendations made by the Nevada Electronic Records Committee that will serve as the foundation for "life cycle" management of electronic records by all political subdivisions of Nevada government.

"While investment in the technology side of the state I/T infrastructure is substantial, the investment in the information side will be our state's most valuable future asset," Jones said. "The information content and intellectual property of our state becomes its law, policy, and history, and will be Nevada's legacy to the future."

The statutory responsibility for managing the state's information services (NRS 378) constitutes the basis for the recommendations developed by representatives of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial branches that serve in an advisory capacity to the State Records Committee (NRS 239). These policies provide the conceptual framework wherein the electronic systems used by state agencies as well as county and city government can be managed in an integrated, fiscally responsible, consistent manner, thus insuring the integrity of the state's important information and assuring public accountability.

Jones also stated that the Nevada Electronic Records Committee brings an important perspective to Nevada's information technology community. "Technology is changing quickly, and I look forward to these recommendations meeting our state's information management goals today and in the future."

The Nevada State Library and Archives is part of the Nevada Department of Cultural Affairs, which also includes the Division of Museums and History, the Office of Historic Preservation and the State Arts Council. DCA serves Nevada's citizens and visitors through cultural and information management, preservation and promotion of cultural resources, and education. Other key components of the department are the Comstock Historic District Commission, the Literacy Coalition, the Advisory Committee on Participatory Democracy, and the Commission for Cultural Affairs. General information on the department is on the Web at http://nevadaculture.org/

NLA Financial Primer Part Two:

How Does the Nevada Library Association Spend Its Money?

Ken Bierman, NLA Finance Chair

In the last issue of Nevada Libraries we looked at where NLA gets its money. We learned that NLA has two, and only two, significant sources of discretionary income: membership dues and net conference income [profit]. In addition, NLA is sometimes able to acquire earmarked money to support specific programs or activities [e.g., scholarships]. In this issue we'll examine how NLA spends its discretionary money [circa $25,000 annually].

TRAVEL

NLA typical spends around $8,000 a year on travel. This includes partial expenses for the ALA Representative and MPLA Representative to represent NLA at these organizational meetings. In addition, NLA typically pays partial expenses for one or two individuals to attend National Legislative Day in Washington DC. Finally, NLA pays partial expenses for Executive Board members who live far away to attend the Winter Board planning meeting in January.

LEGISLATIVE LIASON

On an annual basis, NLA typically spends about $6,000 a year on legislative liaison activities. In actuality, because the Nevada Legislature meets every other year, these expenses occur every other year. The Legislative Liaison expense last year was $10,000 and the Legislative Reception costs around $2,000.

SCHOLARSHIPS

NLA spends $5,000 of its annual discretionary income on scholarships. For the last few years, NLA has been successful at obtaining outside funding to support scholarships, in addition to its expenditure, so far more scholarships have been awarded. Last year, for example, NLA spent nearly $22,500 on scholarships of which $5,500 came from its discretionary income.

PRINTING/MAILING

NLA spends around $3,000 on operational expenses including printing/mailing Nevada Libraries, stationary, treasurer's expenses, election expenses, postage, supplies, membership dues, etc.

PROGRAM ACTIVITIES

NLA spends the remainder of its discretionary money [circa $3,000] on programming activities. This includes speakers, refreshments, and an occasional "special project".

Although amounts of course vary from year to year, the chart below shows an idealized summary of how NLA has typically spent its money in recent years.

In the next issue of Nevada Libraries we'll look at NLA's actual income and expenses in 2001.

Idealized	Spending	Summary
-----------	----------	---------

Travel	$ 8,000	32%
Legislative Liaison	$ 6,000	24%
Scholarships	$ 5,000	20%
Operational Expenses	$ 3,000	12%
Programming	$ 3,000	12%
TOTAL	$25,000	100%

MPLA

Continued from Page 3

You can monitor developments as we begin planning for this year's conference. The Tri Conference with South Dakota Library Association / North Dakota Library Association / and MPLA can be followed through the conference website at http://ndsl.lib.state.nd.us/ndla/02conf.htm. Plan now to join us in Fargo, North Dakota from October 2 - 5, 2002.

And don't forget, MPLA members can apply for Professional Development Grants in order to finance conference and workshop attendance.

MPLA Leadership Institute

The MPLA Executive Board at its December meeting formally approved going ahead with the planned MPLA Leadership Institute. This is intended to be a yearly institute held each fall at Ghost Ranch, New Mexico. MPLA is currently in contract negotiations with a nationally known trainer to provide the training and currently looking for a major corporate sponsor.

At this time MPLA is currently advertising for an Institute Coordinator. The position is open immediately. The initial Leadership Institute is slated for Fall of 2002. If you have an interest in the job, please contact the Committee Chair

Marilyn Hinshaw, Chair, MPLA Leadership Institute Committee Email mhinshaw@eodls.lib.ok.us Voice mail (918) 683-2846 x234

For information about MPLA and membership, visit the MPLA website http://www.usd.edu/mpla/index.html

2002 AWARD NOMINEES ARE:

PICTURE BOOK

Bark, George by Jules Feiffer
Bat Boy and His Violin by Garvin Curtis
Great Pet Sale by Mick Inkpen
Home Rune by Robert Burleigh
Hooway for Wodney Wat by Helen Lester
Lizard Man of Crabtree County by Lucy Nolan
Sammy and the Dinosaurs by Ian Whybrow
Very Noisy Night by Diana Hendry

YOUNG READER

Because of Winn-Dixie by Kate DiCamillo
Flying Flea, Callie and Me by Carol & Bill Wallace
Riding Freedom by Pam Munoz Ryan
Volcano Disaster by Peg Kehret
Weird Stories from the Lonesome Café by Judy Cox
Year of Miss Agnes by Kirkpatrick Hill

I NTERMEDIATE

First Test by Tamora Pierce
Hostage by Willo Davis Roberts
Midnight Magic by Avi
Nobody's There by Joan Lowry Nixon
Shadow Spinner by Susan Fletcher
Slump by Dave Jarzyna

YOUNG ADULT

Burning Up by Caroline B. Cooney
Dance for Three by Louise Plummer
Downsiders by Neal Shusterman
I Rode a Horse of Milk White Jade by Diane Lee Wilson
Trapped Between the Lash and the Gun by Arvella Whitmore
When Kambia Elaine Flew In from Neptune by Lori Aurelia

Final ballots must be received no later than May 15, 2002 .by Jeanette M. Moore (jmmoore@clan.lib.nv.us) Elko County Library 720 Court Street Elko, NV 89801

The Steering Committee will meet at the Elko County Library on Saturday March 16th from 9:30-4:00 to determine the 2003 nominations list. Please contact Jeanette if you have any questions (775-738-3066).

Nevada Library Institute

Plans are underway for the third annual Nevada Library Institute. The theme was determined at the 2001 Library Leadership Institute: "Marketing Your Library". Sessions will be held at the State Library & Archives and housing will be at the Plaza Hotel, 801 South Carson Street.

Nevada Libraries Vision Statement

- @ your library, we demonstrate a commitment to:
 - 1. Create awareness of traditional, innovative, and technology-based services that respond to the diverse and changing needs of our communities
 - Attract and empower a resourceful and approachable staff to provide excellent service exceeding customer expectations
 - 3. Design dynamic, interactive library environments that serve as the primary location for personal and community interaction
 - 4. Actively cooperate with diverse organizations to expand resources beyond our current boundaries

The RFP for the Marketing Nevada Libraries Institute is on the NSLA website. Go to http://dmla.clan.lib.nv.us/docs/nsla/ for more information.

Call for Proposals for Programs

Final Application due April 15st, 2002

Reinventing the Roots of Tradition Conference Program, NLA 2002

Please supply the following information for each program you would like to host or conduct.

Return no later than April 1, 2001 to:

Joan Vaughan, Program Co-Chair Gibson Library 280 S. Water St Henderson, NV 89015

E-mail: jevaughan@hdpl.org Phone: (702) 564-9261 Fax: (702) 565-8832

Any Special Arrangements You Will Need: please complete attached equipment list
Equipment You Will Provide For This Program:
Abstract of Program (50 Words or Less): (Your abstract will be used in our Conference Schedule.)
The Nevada Library Association will pay for travel, lodging, honorarium, and per diem for speakers that are in-state library staff members. In-state library staff members cannot collect travel, honorarium and per diem presentations at NLA Annual Conference (Exception: If the presenters' institution doesn't pay travel and per diem, they may request those costs at state rates)." All costs for the program should have been accounted for the section or interest group annual budget.	for Budget Amount Approved by the NLA Executive Board for this program: $
Does the honorarium being paid to any of your speakers exceed $599? $
(Any honorarium of $600 or more must be accounted for with an IRS form W-9)

Grant and Scholarship Opportunities

JAMES S. McPHEE MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIPS FOR LIBRARY SCIENCE EDUCATION

The Nevada Library Association Scholarship fund was created to provide financial support for members in good standing of the Nevada Library Association who are seeking educational opportunities in library science. Persons selected to receive an award from this fund must show potential for emulating James S. McPhee's contribution to Nevada libraries.

Eligibility Requirements

Applicants must:

- be a member in good standing of the Nevada Library Association
- be eligible for admission to the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, University of Nevada, Reno, or an American Library Association accredited graduate library science program
- have a complete application file as of the final date indicated on the application form

For more information and application procedures – head to www.nevadalibraries.org

MOUNTAIN PLAINS LIBRARY ASSOCIATION PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT GRANTS PROGRAM

MPLA sponsors a professional development grants program to improve library services in the Mountain Plains region by supporting continuing education and research experiences for individuals employed in the library or related professions. The program is administered by the Professional Development Grants Committee.

For more information and application procedures – go to http://www.usd.edu/mpla/committees/profdev/grants.html

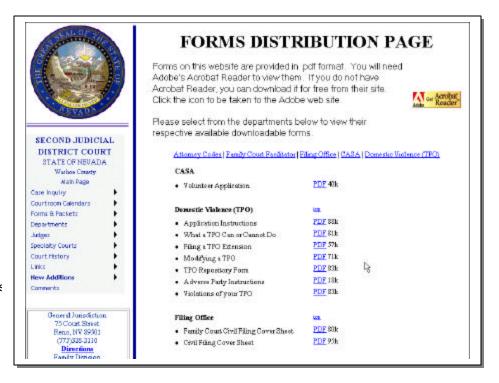

Washoe County Courts Launch New Web Site

The Washoe County Courts have recently launched their web site at http://www.washoecourts.com

Of particular interest are the forms and department information, including information about the Family Court Facilitator's Office. Not all of the forms are completely loaded on the web site yet, but many more forms are going to arrive quickly.

The librarians at Washoe County Law Library are available to assist anyone with legal reference questions. They can't give legal advice, but will gladly provide assistance in legal research matters to any patron or librarian at any geographic location.

Washoe County Law Library Reference Desk 775-328-3250 lawlib@mail.co.washoe.nv.us.

College of DuPage Library Teleconferences Presents...

Virtual Reference Services . . . What, Why and How?

Program I (February 8): Gives an overview of the current state and variety of virtual reference services and their future directions. The conference will detail changes such services have already made in the library community and explore how creative work can be an effective agent of change. Program I will help you assess need for change and the opportunities it means for your library.

Program II (April 19): Shows how library practitioners are instituting virtual reference services by showcasing successful implementations. The program's goal is to give practical, realistic information to the working librarian and decision maker on moving to virtual reference services. These will be candid discussions of the problems facing adopters of virtual reference services work.

Nevada Downlink Sites

Washoe County Library System

Contact: Martha Greene mgreene@washoe.lib.nv.us (775) 327-8346

Elko-Lander-Eureka County Library System

Elko County Library Contact: Patrick Dunn pfdunn@clan.lib.nv.us (775) 738-3066

University of Nevada, Las Vegas

Lied Library
Contact: Victoria Nozero
vnozero@ccmail.nevada.edu
(702) 895-2129
(no pre-registration required)

Western Nevada Community College

Library and Media Services Contact: Ken Sullivan ken@wncc.nevada.edu (775) 887-3087

Community College of Southern Nevada

Department of Libraries Contact: Marcia Arado or Ken Schott marcia_arado@ccsn.nevada.edu or ken_schott@ccsn.nevada.edu (702) 651-7437 or (702) 651-3114

Churchill County Library

Contact: Barbara Mathews blmathew@clan.lib.nv.us (775) 423-7581

OCLC Institute Classes at UNLV

Brad Eden, beden@ccmail.nevada.edu

OCLC and UNLV will be offering two classes April and May, 2002:

Knowledge Management: Methods and Systems April 22-24, 2002 (Early Bird Registration ends March 1) This seminar is designed to explore the background, motivations, and definitions of knowledge management, and the intersection of this increasingly popular management trend with the Web revolution and digital knowledge resources. The focus will be on threats and opportunities for libraries. Topics include components and characteristics of knowledge management, system fundamentals, functional requirements, and system performance. Instructional methods include lecture, group discussion, guided laboratory exercises, case analyses, and small group presentations.

Creating a New Reference Librarianship May 20-22, 2002 (Early Bird Registration ends April 5)
Designed especially for reference and public services librarians at all levels, this OCLC Institute seminar will help you take a more active role in creating a new reference librarianship...in your own career, work unit, library, or larger spheres of influence and concern. This intensive seminar includes provocative lectures, facilitated group discussions, and hands-on laboratory sessions, you will be challenged to ask the difficult questions, gain hands-on experience with new technology applications, and create an action plan for change.

UNLV is moving to establish itself as the West Coast Regional center for the OCLC Institute. These classes will cost about $495 for registration, plus other costs (housing, travel, meals, etc.). CAPTAIN and RAISON offered some scholarships so that individuals from around the state could apply and attend (scholarship application deadline was February 15, 2002).

You can find out more about the Institute at http://www.oclc.org/institute/courses/index.htm

Highlights of ALA Midwinter, January 19-23, 2002 Cindy DeLanty, ALA Delegate

From the Patriot Act to the Newbery and Caldecott Award announcements, Midwinter was full of issues vital to Nevada libraries. ALA's Washington Office has been very busy preparing guidelines for librarians on the U.S.A. Patriot Act, information on UCITA, CIPA, key points in the Reed Amendment and a host of other topics pertinent to all of us. For complete details, visit the Washington Office website http://www.ala.org/washoff/.

All of these issues are especially on my mind now as I'm preparing for the 28th National Library Legislative Day, May 6 & 7, 2002. This year we are encouraging libraries around Nevada to send representatives to Washington, D.C. for this event. It is our hope that libraries will consider sending staff and encourage their Friends groups and patrons to make this trip to support our libraries. If you are interested in attending, please contact me for more details.

Council sessions during Midwinter saw resolutions on health care coverage for librarians (referred to the Budget Analysis and Review Committee), approval of the bylaws of the 501c6 organization for certification programs for individuals, requiring professional librarian credentials for the position of the ALA Office for Intellectual Freedom (narrowly missed being approved), hotel contracts for meetings, privacy and intellectual freedom. One added element of the establishment of the 501c6 is that ALA would have the ability to lobby directly for better salaries and pay equity. This is one of President-elect Mitch

Freedman's areas of focus for his time in office and the establishment of the new organization allows more work in this area. For complete information on that, see http://www.mjfreedman.org/. Reports ranged from the ALA

Treasurer's report to the Committee on Organization's work to further the use of electronic resources in conducting ALA business. This year the President's Program "Librarians as Gatekeepers of the Internet" was recorded for webcast on ALA's site. Watch for it to be posted in the near future. These matters and many more will be detailed in my web page on the NLA website in the near future. Please feel free to contact me at

(702) 507-4011 if you have questions or would like information before my pages are posted.

Chapter Relations Committee meetings were a very good way to be prepared for Council sessions. ALA officers from the Executive Director, President, President-elect and on stop by the meetings to present information to all of the Chapters. One item of note is the search being conducted for a new ALA Executive Director with the retirement of Bill Gordon this August. Chapters are being represented on the search committee by the chair of the Chapter Relations Committee, Kathy East.

This went much longer than I wanted, but it gives you an idea of the magnitude of the information presented in the course of the conference. I also managed to do a few fun things as well and I'll tell you about them on my webpages. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to represent you at ALA!!!

NLA Wants YOU!!!!

NLA wants and needs you! Now is the time to renew your membership or join us again! Membership for the Nevada Library Association runs from January through December. The 2002 memberships are due beginning January 2002. If you want to join NLA for 2002, find the membership form at http://www.nevadalibraries.org/member/membership.html

Fill out the form, make check out to Nevada Library Association and send to

Michelle L. Mazzanti NLA Treasurer 115 S. Water Street Henderson, NV 89015

NLA promotes library service and librarianship to all Nevada libraries.

$\frac{NL}{\blacksquare A}$ Nevada Library Association

100 North Stewart Street Carson City, NV 89701-4285

www.nevadalibraries.org

Contents

President's Letter2002 - 2003 Calendar	p1
2002 NLA Conference Hotel Info
Movie Copyright Compliance
Nevada Libraries Leadership Retreat	p 3
Gini Hahn
Off-site Library Services Conference
News from MPLA
Southern District News	p 0
Electronic Record Keeping
NLA Financial Planner
Nevada Young Readers' Awards
Nevada Libraries Institute
Program Proposals – NLA 2002p
Grant & Scholarship Opportunities
Washoe County Courts Web Site
Virtual Reference Teleconferences
OCLC Institute Classes at UNLV
Highlights of ALA Midwinter
NLA Membership	p 15

PRESORTED STANDARD
US POSTAGE
PAID
CARSON CITY NV
PERMIT 94

White Pine County Library